Good Morning Mr. Parkins

George Wilson Jr. is currently serving as the President of the Levelock Native Corp. and is a lifelong commercial fisherman. He grew up and subsists on the Kvichak River living in Igiugig or Levelock for most of his life. He is currently living in Montana while his wife is schooling for becoming a PA and said that he would travel back and forth for meetings

Annette writes:

My name is Annette Wilson; I'm a 43 year old lifelong Alaskan of Aleut decent. I grew up in a subsistence household and my father commercial fished his whole life in Bristol Bay, starting out as a young boy. He had my brother and I as crew members and I continue to commercially fish today with my own crew. My children also fish both with their father and with me.

I have a Bachelor's degree in Education that I received via distance education through the University of Alaska Fairbanks Bristol Bay campus. I work for Southwest Alaska Vocational & Education Center (SAVEC) as the Community Outreach Coordinator. I've served as a board member and secretary on our native corporation board since the early 1990's.

Prior to moving to King Salmon where I took my job with SAVEC, I lived in Dillingham for 8 years and worked at Bristol Bay Native Association.

As a commercial fisherwoman I am a strong oppose of the proposed Pebble Mine near Lake Iliama. I grew up in Igiugig, the headwaters of Lake Iliamna and I do not want that mine "in my backyard." I'm also supporter of 404(C): EPA To Conduct Scientific Assessment Of Pebble.

I myself Greg Andrew Jr is 46 years old and is currently serving on the Levelock Village Council as the President and have been living in Levelock for over 25 years before moving here to raise a family I grew up on the south shore of Lake Iliamna in Kokhanok. I have commercial fished for many of the years and have worked for the Lake and Peninsula School District for over 20 years traveling from Port Alsworth down to Ivanoff Bay between the districts 15 different sites to do maintenance and construction work. I subsist on the land for the meat, fish and berries and various plants all along the Kvichak river and Lake Iliamna area.

*The above have been nominated by the Levelock Village Council, we've invited elders but here in Levelock we only have a few elders left and they are hesitant to travel but are willing to participate in the local consultation.

Thank you,

Greg Andrew Jr.
